WASHINGTON—(P)—The administration's "little business conference" adjourned in an uproar Thursday after voting a program of economic advice to President Roosevelt. Despite shouted protests, the conference adopted reports of nine committees which recommended, among other things, that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit.

Two delegates, who wanted to address the conference, were forcibly ejected from the auditorium before adjournment.

Damaged Mail Being Re-worked at Hope Office for Delivery

Three pouches of United States mail were damaged at midnight Wednesday when a kerosene lamp fell from the mail car of the Hope-Nashville branch of the Missouri Pacific train which was switching in the local railroad yards.

No one was in the mail car at the time the fire started, firemen reported. The blaze was discovered by the switching crew which turned in the alarm to the fire department.

Firemen said the damage was confined to the three mail pouches, which were quickly extinguished.

Postmaster Robert Wilson said Thursday that many letters were damaged by fire and water. Addresses on four letters were obliterated. Addresses on other mail was legible and capable of being read although damaged by fire.

None of the pouches contained registered mail.

Among the mail was three bundles of Hope Star newspapers addressed to residents of Nashville, Tokio and the Nashville rural routes. Part of these bundles were salvaged.

Subscribers of the newspaper will be furnished fresh copies, the same date.

Postmaster Wilson said delivery of all the mail except four letters and one postcard would be made. Addresses on these are obliterated.

All mail was returned to Hope post-office and is being re-worked.

Former Hope Man Dies in Colorado

Bruce Caulder, 48, Was Former Clerk at Hope Postoffice

LONOKE, Ark.—Bruce B. Caulder, aged 48, of Lonoke, died suddenly Monday morning at Colorado Springs, Colo., where he had spent the past several years for his health.

Prior to leaving Lonoke, Mr. Caulder was connected with the Lonoke Real Estate and Abstract Company for a number of years. He took an active interest in title work, serving as president and secretary of the Arkansas Land Title Association.

He was a member of the Lonoke Methodist church, charter member of the Lonoke Kiwanis club, member of the Masonic lodge and Al Amin Shrine. Mr. Caulder is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sallie Bradford Caulder of Lonoke, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Caulder, one brother, Watson Caulder of Little Rock, and two children by a former marriage, Bruce Jr. and Francis Caulder of San Jose, Calif.

Mrs. Caulder left Monday for Colorado to accompany the body here for burial. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Attended School Here

Bruce Caulder was a former resident of Hope, going from here to Lonoke. He was a graduate of the Hope High School, and was a clerk in the Hope postoffice for many years, serving under two former postmasters, James H. Gibson and J. E. Woodson. He was joined in Lonoke by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Caulder, former residents of Hope.

Green Is Indicted by Mine Workers

May Expel Him From U. M. W. If Convicted of Charges

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United Mine Workers convention, acting as a grand jury, indicted William Green Wednesday on charges of "treason."

The convention then directed the union's Executive Board to give the American Federation of Labor president a hearing, and to expel him from the U. M. W. if he were found guilty.

Union officials had talked of asking the convention to expel Green without further action, but they backed down after Green challenged the right of the convention to act as an original trial court.

Green, a member of the U. M. W. for 48 years and for many years international secretary-treasurer, contended his own local union in Coshocton, O., should try him if he were to be tried.

Green was charged with treason after he signed an A. F. of L. charter for the Progressive Miners of America, rival of the U. M. W. in Illinois.

Highway Bond Plan

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Arkansas Democrat said Thursday that Governor Bailey was considering the advisability of going to New York and Chicago soon for conferences with investment bankers on the proposed $145,000,000 highway bond refinancing plan.

No comment came from the governor at Hot Springs.

The Democrat said former Attorney General Walter L. Pope, who has handled much of the legal phase of the bond situation during the past four years, probably would accompany Bailey on such a trip.

Upholds His Agency

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Warren Madden, chairman of the National Labor Relations board, told the senate judiciary committee Thursday that his agency was neither biased nor incompetent, and had no "illusions about remaining social order."

The committee is considering a request from Senator Burke (Dem., Neb.) to investigate "widespread reports" that the board was biased and incompetent in administering the Wagner Labor act.

Madden said Senator Burke's criticism was based on a "supply of misinformation, half truth and trivialities."

Double Execution Planned Friday

Duncan Pique and Foster Penton Scheduled to Die Friday

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark.—(AP)—Superintendent A. J. Reed of the state penitentiary said Wednesday arrangements were being completed for a double execution here at dawn Friday.

Scheduled to die are Duncan Pique, 24, and Foster Penton, 35, both negroes. Reed said he knew of no plans by their attorneys to delay the executions.

Pique was sentenced for the slaying of Night Marshal J. Robert Bennett of Lonoke last September 12, and Penton was convicted of killing another negro, Charlie Block, in a dice game at Garland City.

Marshal Bennett was slain following the robbery of the Lonoke postoffice. Pique, who had been in the postoffice, was arrested and charged with the robbery and asserted that a white man, who helped him, killed Bennett. Officers testified that ballistics and paraffin tests indicated Pique was the actual slayer.

Pique twice tried to escape from the Lonoke county jail. On one occasion he engaged in a hand-to-hand battle with Deputy Sheriff Harry Neal. The negro jumped or was thrown to the ground from the jail on the fourth floor of the courthouse. He was seriously injured.

Groundhog Sees Shadow, Bad Weather Predicted

GOBBLE'S KNOB, Puntawney, Pa.—(AP)—The nation is in for six more weeks of winter underwear and coal bills—so says the groundhog.

Those who take their groundhog-gazing without salt, could see it no other way Wednesday when rival lodgers at Pennsylvania's famed Gobbler's Knob, Quarryville and down in the Lehigh valley turned up with the same prediction.

It took no hair-line judgment to make the forecasts this year at these self-designated weatherworks of the nation. The sun glared down from almost cloudless skies and the woodchuck's shadow was distinct enough to frighten him back to six more weeks of slumber.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Fred Rauch decided to disappear and make people think that he was dead. He built up a clever plan, which fooled his wife—but not the police.

At 10 o'clock at night Mrs. Rauch was summoned to the morgue, where she identified the body of a motor accident victim as that of her husband. The features were unrecognizable, but Mrs. Rauch said that the clothes were those which her husband had been wearing that day. Papers found in the pockets also indicated the dead man was Rauch.

The last person who had seen Rauch was Sam Jenkins, a barber, who had given him a haircut at about 5 p. m., and who had seen Rauch enter his car and drive away immediately thereafter.

The police informed Mrs. Rauch that the dead man was not her husband.

Here is what Rauch had done: On the outskirts of the city he picked up a hitch-hiker who resembled him in general build. After riding a short way, he called his companion's attention to something on the right side of the road, and knocked him out with a wrench.

He then stopped the car, changed clothes with his victim, and figured the man's face, drove the car to the top of a steep hill and jumped out as he turned it off the road. Rauch went on his way, believing no one would ever know that the body in the car was not his.

HOW DID THE POLICE KNOW THE BODY WAS NOT THAT OF RAUCH?

Mrs. Lester May Has Bullet Wound in Her Left Lung

Condition Is Serious, Reported to Have 50-50 Chance

INVESTIGATE CASE

Circumstances Leading to Shooting Not Learned Here

Mrs. Lester May, about 23, of the Patmos community 10 miles south of Hope, was brought to Julia Chester hospital here at 8:30 a. m. Thursday suffering from a bullet wound in the body.

She had been shot through the left lung, apparently by a bullet from a .22 calibre rifle, an attending physician said.

The shooting was reported to have occurred at the home of her father in the Patmos community.

A physician said the bullet punctured the lung. He rendition Thursday afternoon was described as a "50-50 chance" to recover.

Little could be learned here as to circumstances leading to the shooting. Deputy Sheriff Reginald Bearden said Thursday afternoon that he was investigating the case, but had no statement to make at 2:45 p. m.

Bearden said, however, that he had been in the Patmos community during the morning and had raided the home of West Wheeler, negro, 50, where he seized about four gallons of moonshine liquor.

The negro was brought to Hope and placed in jail. He will be charged with possession of untaxed liquor for the purpose of sale.

Assisting Bearden in the raid and the arrest of the negro Wheeler, was Policeman F. B. Ward of the Hope police force.

Municipal League to Meet in Hope

Regional Conference Is Called by Mayor Albert Graves

A regional meeting of the Arkansas Municipal League will be held in Hope at 10 a. m. next Tuesday, it was announced Thursday by Mayor Albert Graves.

All of the cities and towns in Hempstead, Nevada, Miller, Little Rock, Sevier, Howard, Pike and Clark counties have been invited to send their officials to this meeting.

The Arkansas Municipal League, a service organization for cities, was organized in Fayetteville over three years ago, and now has 135 member cities in Arkansas. At the conference in Hope, city officials will outline information to be included in a manual for city officials and will discuss new municipal laws and practices.

William D. Hopson of Little Rock, director of the league, will attend the meeting. Hopson said, "Much valuable information is received by city officials through the interchange of ideas at meetings of this kind."

Problems of administration of cities and towns are very much the same throughout the state. A round table discussion of these problems invariably brings to light new and better methods from which all officials benefit. These discussions also indicate needs of cities and towns that can only be remedied by legislative action. A full discussion of these needs permits the drafting of sensible and uniform legislation for submission to the general assembly."

Vote on Anti-Lynch Bill Is Demanded by Senator Wagner

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) said Thursday that friends of the Anti-Lynching bill were "determined to have" a vote on the legislation that has been filibustered for a month.

Defending its constitutionality, Wagner, one of the measure's authors, told the senate that "either we should vote down the anti-lynching bill—thus announcing once and for all that we will do nothing about the lynching evil—or we should promptly pass the measure now before us."

Southern senators said they might call for a vote Friday on shelving the measure. Opponents of the bill have held the Senate floor almost continuously since the session started.

Senator Bilbo (Dem., Miss.), carrying on the filibuster, asked proponents why they have not attempted to defend the measure.

Only half a dozen senators were in the chamber Wednesday night as Bilbo read from newspapers and books in support of his arguments that the bill is "unconstitutional, un-American and undemocratic."

Saying that negroes should be returned to Africa, Bilbo told the senate that leaders of the race should support such a movement.

"We wouldn't have any unemployment problem then," he said. "Take out the 12,000,000 negroes, and there

Plan Retirement for Court Justices

Proposed Constitutional Amendment Prepared for Voters

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—Retirement pay for Arkansas supreme court members would be made permanent under a proposed constitutional amendment being prepared for submission to the voters at the November general election, it was disclosed Thursday.

Members of the State Bar Association are drafting an initiative measure under which justices who have served for ten or more years would be allowed to retire at the age of 70 on annual pay of $4,000. Retirement would be optional with the justices.

Sponsors said the purpose of the proposed amendment was to obviate the necessity of a legislative act every two years continuing the system. At present former Justice Carroll D. Wood is the only retired member of the court. During the past six years, three appropriations for his retirement salary have been made ranging as high as $7,500, full pay for an active justice.

CHAPTER I

A TALL lithe girl in a brown coat and bonnet stood knocking on old Oliver Dart's oaken street door in the heart of London while a summer storm blustered and the sperm-oil street lamps were being lit. She had come three thousand miles by sailboat across the Atlantic and a hundred miles by coach from Bournemouth, and she was only just losing her patience.

The door opened a crack to let a plump red-faced woman in a starched cap peer out. The girl said to her, "Let me in, please! I'm wet to the skin!"

"Who be you?"

"Polly Chelsey. Great-niece to Mister Oliver Dart. I've come from Connecticut to see him."

"Where be Connecticut? In Yorkshire?"

"In America."

"Lud! There was a gasp, and the door opened."

On the threshold the girl turned to call to the driver of a gig that had brought her to the door: "Cabby, bring my trunk, and mind you don't drop it!"

The driver lumbered up the steps with a small doekskin trunk studded with brass nails and deposited it on the hall floor.

"How much do I owe you?" asked Polly Chelsey.

Cotton Producers Must Sign Sheets

Must Register to Draw Subsidy Payment on Certificates

The following information has just been received from I. W. Duggan, acting director of the Agricultural Program for the Southern Division, Washington, D. C. This information does not concern producers who signed a work sheet with the county agent for 1937. The information is for those producers who did not sign a work sheet in 1937. Clifford L. Smith, county agent, announced.

"It will be necessary for all cotton producers to sign a work sheet for the past year, 1937, on all land on which cotton has been planted since 1933 and land on which it is anticipated that cotton will be planted in 1938. All producers who fail under this classification should sign their work sheets at once for the following two reasons.

"1. The work sheet must be signed before the producer can draw subsidy payment on cotton certificates filed in the county agent's office. This is necessary in order that the cotton base and production may be brought up to date in order that the 65 per cent of the production may be determined, 65 per cent of the production being the figure on which subsidy payments will be made.

"2. The work sheets must be signed before the farm can be allotted any acres or production for 1938."

COLLIDE IN MID-AIR

One of Two Patrol Bombers Falls to Sea in Flames

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—(P)—Two Navy patrol bombers, flying through a rain squall, collided within sight of a maneuvering United States fleet off the Southern California coast Thursday, killing at least seven of 14 crewmen.

Admiral Claude C. Block radioed the Associated Press Thursday that one bomber, a 11-P3, fell in flames.

The other bomber, a 11-P4, cracked up when it struck the sea.

All seven of the flame-enveloped 11-P3 were believed certain to have perished.

Lieut. Elmer Glenn Cooper, 32, commanding officer of the 11-P3, was a native of Monticello, Ark.

He was educated in the public schools of Monticello, and later was graduated from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, in 1927.

He is survived by his widow and a small son of San Pedro.

Four Others Killed

NATAL, Brazil.—(P)—Capt. Mario Stoppini, noted Italian flier, was injured and four members of his crew killed Wednesday when the transatlantic seaplane he was piloting fell into the sea and burned.

Stoppini, captain of the world distance record for seaplanes, was rescued by a German plane which sped to the scene 50 miles off the coast and found him clinging to a floater torn from the blazing wreckage.

Commander Blume of the German seaplane Bores returned here Wednesday night after flying to the aid of a sister plane which picked up the injured flier, but had been unable to rise from the heavy seas near the scene of the tragedy.

"We found Stoppini, grasping one floater which was disjoined from the plane," Commander Blume said. "He was wounded and is now aboard the seaplane Sarum."

Aeronautical experts said the disaster was caused when gasoline, spilled in the sea to aid the plane in landing, caught fire. Stoppini had turned back toward Natal when the plane, en route to Cadiz, Spain, developed engine trouble several hundred miles at sea. Cutter No. 4 of Air France picked up an unidentified body near where Stoppini was found.

The four dead were Capt. Enrico Comani and Capt. Mario Viola, both veterans of the Italian campaign in Ethiopia, Sergeant Jaria and Mechanic Pagliani.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

By R. C. Oertel

TWENTIETH century mission- aries have more and more taken to the skies and use planes to cover impassable terrain and huge distances. One of these "flying priests," Father Paul Schulte, O.M.I., utilized his plane to conquer arctic wastes, and save the life of a tiny baby.

He roared into Mistake Bay, Northern Canada, recently to pick up his friend Father Dione, who was to have been walrus hunting. There was no sign of the hunting party, and an inquiry at the Hudson's Bay Company's offices revealed that Father Dione had hurried to the home of the four-day-old Eskimo baby, who was seriously ill, and was without medical aid.

Quickly Father Schulte took off for Chesterfield Inlet, home of the company physician. His flight seemed fruitless when he was told that the doctor was at Baker Lake, 200 miles west of Chesterfield. He reached the doctor by radio and found that the physician planned to return a day later by the ice breaker St. Therese.

Early the next morning, Father Schulte sped to Baker Lake, setting his plane down alongside the

What to Do When You Get Two Chickens (on Different Occasions) to Put in the Pot

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

To a hungry man, a chicken in the pot is worth two cars in the garage. Especially when some expert cook applies a little kitchen magic.

Skillet Chicken
(Serves 4)

One broiler (about 2½ pounds), giblet broth, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup cream, ½ cup whole milk, 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon water for paste.

Have butcher cut broiler in 4 pieces breaking joint between drumstick and thigh without cutting through skin. Wipe chicken with damp cloth, dry, then season and dust with flour. Heat butter in large skillet, then brown chicken slightly on both sides. Combine in another pot about ½ cup of giblet broth, the cream and milk.

"Glad I'm Alive!"... life is pleasant

If you are feeling good and "peppy," that's what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did for me. It gave me a better appetite, increased the flow of gastric juice and thus improved my digestion. It's a tonic that helps build up the system, relieves stomach aches and you feel better in many ways. Buy now at any drug store.

Chicken in one of its most exalted moments—planked pullet with a border of duchesse potatoes and garnish of assorted fresh vegetables. Try it for the next party. It looks far grander than it is hard to prepare.

Bring to boil and at once pour over chicken in skillet. Do not cover skillet. Remove to preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) and bake for about 45 minutes. Baste occasionally while baking. Remove chicken to hot platter and thicken gravy with smoothed flour. Four over chicken on platter and that's something.

To make the giblet broth, scald and scrape the chicken feet, and place in pot with tips of wings, neck, a little parsley, a carrot, a few scrapings of onion and a sprig of parsley. Add water to cover and simmer for half an hour. Strain.

Every so often some reader asks for a recipe for chicken paprika. It seems to be a favorite in American homes though its origin is supposed to be Hungarian.

Chicken Paprika
(Serves 4)

One broiler (about 2½ pounds) cut as for fricassee, 2 tablespoons butter or vegetable shortening, 5 medium white onions, peeled and sliced, 1 large green pepper, seeded and cut in small pieces, 1 No. 1 can tomatoes, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ cup sour cream.

Wipe chicken with damp cloth. Heat butter in heavy saucepan. Add onions and cook slowly for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add green pepper and continue cooking for 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and seasoning and heat. Add chicken. Cover tightly and cook slowly for 40 to 45 minutes, or until tender. Remove the chicken to a casserole. Turn the heat low under the saucepan and gradually add sour cream to sauce, stirring constantly. When hot and blended, pour over the chicken.

Make a Cold Feel Unwelcome --Feed It Plenty of Vitamin D

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

The Vikings managed to get through a hard winter quite as well as modern sun chasers do on our Southern beaches. Neither our sun-bathed rich nor the sturdy gentlemen of the North went without their vitamin D; codliver oil is an old Scandinavian custom, lying on the hot sands is just another way of getting vitamins without much worry. Add these other sources to your list: too: halibut liver oil, vitamin D concentrates and egg yolk.

If an egg or two a day makes your stomach unhappy, then go in for daily doses of liver oils. If you are looking for an easy way to take an egg yolk, try shaking it up with a little cracked ice and a small glass of fresh fruit juice.

The following recipes show how to get egg yolks into the regular family menus without tears.

Sunshine Scrambled Eggs
(4 to 6 servings)

Two egg yolks, 4 whites, ½ cup whole milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ green pepper. Beat eggs slightly, add milk and salt. Pepper to taste. In top of double boiler er melt butter, add pepper, chopped fine, and cook a few minutes. Then add beaten eggs and stir constantly until soft and creamy—scrambled eggs should be that way, not tough and knobby.

Spinach Salad
(4 to 6 servings)

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, ½ cup hot water, ¾ cup cooked spinach, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 hard-cooked eggs.

Pour water in bowl and sprinkle gelatin on top of water. Add hot water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add lemon juice, salt and spinach. Cool. Rinse mold in cold water and line with hard-cooked eggs cut in slices. Turn in the spinach mixture (gelatin, lemon juice, and salt) until it begins to thicken. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve with garnish of radish flowers. Pass Vitamin-D mayonnaise.

Vitamin-D Mayonnaise
Two egg yolks, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup olive oil, 1 teaspoon salt, dash paprika.

Beat egg yolks, add lemon juice, salt and paprika. Add oil drop by drop, stirring constantly.

Bill DeCorrevont to Attend Northwestern

CHICAGO—(A)—Bill de Correvont, America's outstanding prep gridiron star, decided Wednesday to enroll at Northwestern University next fall.

He said he wished to play at a school near his home. Two or three teammates on the Austin High School eleven of which he was a star, also have planned to enter Northwestern.

De Correvont, 19, will enter Northwestern with the most sensational record ever achieved by a prep football player.

In 10 games last season he scored 35 touchdowns, nine in one game, and registered 211 points. Seventy-five universities and colleges made overtures to him.

Modern Menus

Chocolate Cookies are Good Dessert Prospects

The rich natural flavor and smooth texture of chocolate make it a universal favorite as a cooking ingredient. Just as its protein content makes it likewise a favorite as a milk beverage for meatless meals. Chocolate cookies, when made with oatmeal, have such a delicious, rich—nut-like flavor that they are well qualified to play the part of dessert, alone and unmixed.

As chocolate softens easily it should be melted over hot water, and not over the direct heat.

The ingredients for chocolate cookies are:

½ cup of butter
1 cup of sugar
2 eggs
2 squares of chocolate (melted)
½ cup of flour
¼ teaspoon of salt
1 cup of Quick Quaker Oats
½ teaspoon of vanilla

Cream butter, add well beaten eggs and melted chocolate. Add flour and salt, then Quaker Oats and vanilla. Drop from a teaspoon onto a buttered baking sheet and bake in a very slow oven 30 minutes. Yields 24 cookies.

Sautéed Oatmeal Apples are Good For Lunch or Breakfast

No winter would be complete without its barrelful of apples stored away in the basement. And since they are so convenient why not serve them more often as cooked dishes? One very good dish, which can be served at lunches or breakfasts, is Sautéed Oatmeal Apples.

To make sautéed oatmeal apples use the following ingredients:
2 large apples
butter
cooked Quaker oatmeal sugar
cinnamon

Core the apples, cut them into thick slices, but do not pare them. Cook gently until tender in butter, but do not allow to become broken. Place one slice on each plate, pile with well-cooked, well-seasoned oatmeal in the center and sprinkle with ground cinnamon and sugar. Serve with cream.

A Book a Day By Bruce Catton

The more one reads Bruce Lockhart the more this canny Scotsman seems to fall in the category of our own George Orwell—that is, a story teller extraordinary. Lockhart's fourth and newest book, "A Son of Scotland" (Putnam's, $3), strikingly bears out this point.

The story is primarily that of Lockhart's early life in Scotland. At first glance this would not seem to be an exciting event. Certainly life moved along quietly, if not a bit roughly, for this schoolmaster's son with a dash of the McGregor blood in his veins. But the book turns out to be exceedingly interesting.

Mr. Lockhart, in the happy Fowler style, begins to tell you about his relatives and the first thing you know he has switched you to a rare treat of Scottish anecdotes, entirely off the subject, but very pertinent of course to a picture of Old Scotland.

You will remember for a long time his story of the "procreation" club and the anecdotes of the long-illegal distillers. There is not a word picture in the entire book that fails to splash the color of clanish old Scotland before you.

Finally, Mr. Lockhart ends on a wistful note; he wonders if the national will power is declining. He points to the Scots, too, as having the poorest physique of any race in Europe today and he yearns for the old days. At 50 he sees the days of his youth as perhaps the most fruitful of his varied life after all.

You may not care about Mr. Lockhart or Scotland either but assuredly you should enjoy his intimate book.

Valentines for the Hearty Eaters

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

For the feast of love, cooking must be done with affection. And because all Valentine sentiments should be on the square, this recipe is in order:

Cupid Squares
(Serves 12)

One package cherry flavored gelatin, pint hot water, 1 sheet cake, 1/2 cup cream, whipped.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Pour 1/2 inch layer into shallow square pan. Chill until firm. Cut 4-inch squares from cake. Cover tops with plain sweetened whipped cream and sides with whipped cream into which bits of gelatin have been folded. Place on lace paper doilies. Cut hearts from gelatin with small heart-shaped cutter, and place on top of cakes. Serve at once.

Valentine cakes with butterfly frostings is a thought to turn any chef into a poet.

Valentine Cakes
(Serves 12)

Three cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or other shortening, 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon almond extract, 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with liquid, in small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring; fold in egg whites quickly and thoroughly. Bake in greased shallow pan, 1 1/2 by 9 1/2 inches, in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. When cold, cut with heart-shaped cookie cutter. Frost with butterfly frosting tinted pink. On every other cake, sprinkle grated coconut.

Butterfly Frostings

Four tablespoons butter, 5 cups sifted confectioner's sugar, 2 egg whites, unbeaten, 2 tablespoons cream (about), 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add part of sugar gradually, blend after each addition. Add remaining sugar, alternately with egg whites, then with cream, until of right consistency to spread. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and salt. Divide frosting into fifths. Use one fifth plain. Flavor another with 1 square melted unsweetened chocolate and add about 1 tablespoon milk or cream. Tint the remaining frostings with colorings to give delicate, yet decided shades of yellow, green and pink. Just a tiny bit of coloring on the end of a knife, or a few drops of liquid coloring are enough.

Pulp Mill to Draw

for the Seaboard Airline Railway, at the October meeting of the Technical Association of the pulp and paper industry pointed out the need for building up the forest growing stock and consequent production.

Mr. Wackerman said:

"Much of the acreage that is being acquired for large holdings, therefore, will require several years of fire protection and stand improvement, before it will be in condition to permit regular harvest cuttings. We have but barely scratched the surface of forestry in southern pines."

South Arkansas will be materially affected by the development of the new Springfield mill. Proper selective cutting for sawlogs and pulpwood, together with fire protection, will go a long way toward making the yield from timberland continuous.

For as James G. Stuchman, Nashville, Tenn., president of the American Newspapers Publishers Association, recently pointed out—"We cannot afford to denude the 2,000,000 acres of pinehills which are already standing, but we must engage in a definite program of reforestation, protection, and cultivation in order to keep our timber lands from being completely destroyed."

Spa Track to Get Special Camera

Jimmy Jones, Turf Photographer, to Attend Racing Meet

HOT SPRINGS—Jimmy Jones, the Southern boy who made good in a big way with a magic camera will be heading for the Oklahoma Park race track here within three weeks. Arriving with him from Hialeah Park, Miami, Fla., will be three assistants and a huge magic "lightning eye" camera.

The camera, which cost hundreds of dollars to build is to aid in calling the close finishes during the 30 days of racing beginning February 28.

On arriving here Jones will assemble his camera in a brand new studio built high atop the grandstand and right on the finish line of the Oklahoma track. The studio, built by the local track at considerable expense, is the last word in up to date studio equipment.

Once he has assembled his camera Jones will make every kind of possible test to prove its accuracy to any one who doubts that a camera can, with unerring judgment, call the winner of a race no matter how close the finish. Jones says that if Oklahoma officials are of a mind to do so he will test his camera publicly at the track on February 27, the day before the track opens, just as he has done at such famous racing places as Hialeah, Arlington Park, Hawthorne, Caroga and other places.

Any one who cares to may visit the studio that day, ask any question regarding the camera, and Jones will answer it. If track officials can round up enough lead horses to stage a mock race on inspection day Jones will photo the finish and display pictures after the race.

Jones' camera, which has passed all tests put to it by the Bureau of Standards in Washington is so speedy that he can have a photo of any finish in the hands of the placing judges within one minute after the horses have crossed the finish line.

The camera will "pick up" the leaders of every race approximately one-sixteenth of a mile from the finish line and catch them all the way down to the wire. Photos will be taken to decide the first, second, third and fourth horses and more if necessary.

Race goers are interested in finishes up to and including the third horse, but horsemen are vitally interested in the horse finishing fourth as it usually comes in for a share of each purse.

Jones' career is one of the storied topics of the turf. Born and raised in the sunny South, he early became interested in cameras. He continued this interest and when he read, five or six years ago, that cameras might be used to advantage in aiding placing judges to call the finish of a race he lost no time in developing a machine that would meet such demands.

At first he met with no success at all. Race track operators and fans alike turned a cold shoulder to camera finishes, and looked on them with suspicion. But, that didn't stop Jones, according to his friends. He finally talked a race track operator into installing his camera for a trial. It took but one day to convince the official that the lad from Dixie had something valuable to offer the turf.

There followed long arguments as to the merits and accuracy of photo finishes. Finally this talk died down as placing judges themselves admitted that photographs were a great aid to them in calling the finish of a race. The Bureau of Standards then put the clincher on it by not only approving certain cameras, but attesting to their accuracy as well.

Jones revealed that the other day that he put practically all the profits he makes from his lightning eye cameras back into them in improvements. His camera is now the most widely used in North America and is a mainstay of all the important tracks.

Lloyd Montgomery Is Among Those Who Failed to Make Grades

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—Final grades for the fall semester cut heavily into the University of Arkansas football squad's roster, Coach Fred C. Thomsen said Wednesday.

Two varsity letter men, a varsity squadman and nine freshman, all expected to be candidates for the 1938 team, were declared ineligible.

The loss to the squad from first semester examinations was the worst in 15 years.

Sub-Capt. Lloyd Montgomery of Bauxite, halfback, and Guard Ed. die Saliba of Blytheville were the two regulars declared ineligible. Dick Tipton, reserve end from Blytheville, also was declared ineligible.

Nine Freshmen Ineligible

Men who played on the 1937 freshman squad who failed to make their grades were: Vinson Westernman, Pine Bluff, back; Walter Wood, Iowa Falls, Ia., center; James Chappell, Hot Springs, guard; Albert Poff, McGhee, tackle; Floyd Wolf, Jay, Okla., end; Bryan Walker, Fayetteville, end; Olin Bell, Nashville, guard, and Max Hutchins, Manila, back.

Thomsen blamed many ineligibilities on failure to attend classes. "Athletes must realize they have to give a fair amount of effort in class," he said. "Those who really try seldom are declared ineligible."

Montgomery Chief Loss

Thomsen said that the loss of Montgomery was felt most heavily, and that Walter Wood had been expected to aid Woodell at center.

He added that Westernman was the "best blocker on the freshman eleven" and was being groomed as the first reserve in the blocking back hole.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those growing, nagging, painful backaches, muscle aches or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's relief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pints of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start aches, backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep, and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

STAMPS IN THE NEWS

SHANGHAI—THE KEY TO CHINA

PERMIT Japan to strengthen Shanghai and by means of it she will dominate all China—that is the consensus of Far Eastern experts. A quick glance at this city—the greatest prize in all the Orient—reveals why. Shanghai is the key to China. China has but one great seaport and that is Shanghai. Alone, the city accounts for 42 per cent of the nation's total customs revenue. Located at the mouth of the Yangtze, the Mississippi of China, the city is a trade outlet for nearly 200,000,000 people in the vast Yangtze basin. And, too, because it is nearest to Japan and America, Shanghai looms as the inevitable headquarters for all Western Pacific commerce. Already it ranks fifth among world ports and is fast gaining in trade clearance. Moreover, it is a strategic industrial center. Here vast engineering works, docks and factories are located. Some 30 textile mills are owned by Japan alone, employing 60,000, while the British own 24 mills and the Chinese four. So today, a city of nearly 4,000,000, Shanghai is vitally important both to a free China and to an aggressive Japan. Magnificent, modern metropolis, her seaport trade is depicted on 1936 China stamp.
